Award-winning cloud accounting software for recruitment agencies

Trusted by recruitment agencies across the UK iplicit's intuitive interface and powerful automation frees recruitment agencies from burdensome finance tasks, allowing them to focus on generating business and delivering value for candidates and clients alike.

We know that many agencies rely heavily on project revenue.

Therefore it's critical that their finance solution offers them project accounting capabilities that provide real-time visibility into revenue performance at a project level.

Not only is iplicit as good as anything I've ever used with regard to resilience but the fact that it's now all in one single solution, with timesheets, reporting and accounting – it's truly remarkable.

The best thing I have to say is that I don't have any issues with it at all! It just works, day in day out and 80% of our business is now running through this one single system that I don't have to worry about. What used to take at least 3.5 days the old way, we can now do in less than a single afternoon!
